

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention provides polypeptides (Cds1) that are involved in regulating the progression of the cell cycle. The polypeptides are activated by double-stranded DNA and phosphorylated in response to the presence of double-stranded DNA. Also provided are polynucleotides encoding Cds1 polypeptidase and methods for modulating cell cycle progression in a cell.